

Hello Sir /Ma'am ,

I hope this email finds you well.

I am Siddharth, a recent graduate in ECE from University of California, San Diego (UCSD).

I am very interested in the work done by your team which is truly inspiring, and I would love the opportunity to explore ways to collaborate and contribute to your goals.

I have some previous work experience through working at MNCs like Cadence, Keysight .... and with my background I believe I can add value to your team.

I am not

looking for pay at this time and I am sure there can be some ways I can assist.

I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss this further at your convenience and look forward to speaking with you about this.

regards

Siddharth
