Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing in regard to your job posting for the Senior Information Systems Engineer role at AheadComputing.

As a highly motivated self-starter, I believe that I would be a suitable fit for this role.

Technology continues to evolve at an accelerating pace. Given this reality, a choice is continually posed to engineers such as myself: adapt, or do not.

As a professional in the field, I have observed this transformation firsthand, and in response, I continue to adapt to this changing landscape.

Building things, and solving problems form the core of my work. Combined with extensive field experience, this mixture has provided me with continued opportunity to both hone my skills and contribute to any team of which I am a part.

I have attached my resume for your review, and I look forward to your response.

Yours Sincerely,

Joshua Birnbaum

https://www.linkedin.com/in/jbirnbaum/